4. SCOPE OF WORK & GUIDELINES

Climate finance governance is a key component of the work TM undertakes to monitor the governance of climate finance in the Maldives. Climate funds flow into the Maldives through a range of channels, involving a diversity of actors engaged in funding, coordinating, implementing, monitoring and overseeing this finance in the Maldives. Since 2011, TM has been working with relevant stakeholders to strengthen the existing climate finance governance framework. In this regard TM has undertaken review of climate finance governance landscape of Maldives and conducted a study on climate adaptation finance governance standards. This assignment will see TM conducting a research based on two specific case studies detailing environmental crimes in Maldives.

These case studies compilation would be essential in informing further work we do in advocating for strengthening laws in order to enable climate adaptation and mitigation work and combat climate corruption.

In the backdrop of the general research, case studies need to be developed to bring out examples of environmental crimes in the Maldives. As such, the consultant is expected to conduct a research on two cases of environmental crimes and prepare a short paper on the main findings and recommendations

The research is to be built on review of existing information, reviews of laws and regulations related to the cases that would be selected. Interviews must be conducted with key government stakeholders such as ministries, any contracted parties, relevant local councils, representatives of beneficiaries and people who are impacted by the crimes. The consultant is expected to assess how the issues and challenges in the overall governance system impact or facilitates these environmental crimes and if and how corruption and influence of power plays a role in these cases. The two topics for the case studies will be decided in consultation with TM.

A guideline for assessing the crimes should be submitted by the consultant and should be approved by TM which may be modified by the research team in consultation with TM if required. The verification of information collected is the responsibility of the consultant.

The research should include:

- A brief background of the cases
- An analysis of gaps and inconsistencies in the existing legal framework, governance system and other relevant factors that contributed to the case.
- An analysis of actions taken by the authorities.
- Policy recommendations on reforming and strengthening the existing system to avoid these type of crimes.

Responsibilities of Consultant (in close consultation at every stage with TM):

- Develop a guideline to assess the cases
- Propose potential cases of environmental crimes to which the case studies would be compiled and choose two topics / case studies for this research.
- Submit a realistic work plan for a period not exceeding 60 days.
- Identify key stakeholders and provide a list of stakeholders to be interviewed.
- Arrange necessary meetings with stakeholders and conduct interviews and/or focus group discussions.
- Provide notes from the interviews and focus group discussions conducted.
- Provide photos of interviews, focus group discussions and sites visited.
- Produce a draft paper on based analysis of main findings and policy recommendations. (800-1000 words per case study, in English, a total of two case studies)
- Present the findings of the assessment report to TM staff.
- Produce final paper with feedback from TM and stakeholders considered.

5. FUNCTIONAL REQUIREMENTS

The Contractor is expected to start the assignment during the third week of January 2020 for a period of 60 days.

6. FORM/CONTENT OF THE RESPONSE

Service providers must provide the following information in order for their proposal to be considered. Both individuals or teams may submit proposals.

1. Details about the service provider:
